ANNOUNCEMENT.

FOR JUDGE OF COURT OF APPEALS.

We are authorized to announce ROLLIN HURT a candidate for Judge of the Court of Appeals, in the Third district, subject to the action of the Democratic voters, expressed at the August primary.

Hon. Rollin Hurt, of Columbia, candidate for Judge of the Court of Appeals, addressed our citizens at the court house last Saturday, and there is no mistaking the fact that Mr. Hurt will carry this county by a very large majority. The audience was with Mr. Hurt from the start and showed their enthusiasm for him by their generous cheering. Mr. Hurt's speech was convincing as to his ability to fill the office to which he aspires, and needs only to be repeated all over the Appellate District to insure his nomination in August by a large majority.—Campbellsville Times Journal.

The people of Adair and in all the counties in this part of the State are very much interested in Hon. Rollin Hurt's race for Judge of the Court of Appeals. They look to the local papers to tell them how the canvass is progressing. Mr. Hurt is out in the canvass and will be until the primary is over, and all we can tell at this time is, that no unfavorable news reaches Columbia.

Hon. D. H. Smith, of Larue county, has filed his petition and is in the race for the short term for United States Senator. Adair county feels very kind toward him. He will probably pay us a visit before the primary. He is an experienced legislator, having served several terms in Congress, an unflinching Democrat and a gentleman of ability.

William Day, a former desperate man of Brethitt county, was killed by a posse of men at Neon, Letcher county, last Thursday. Before he fell he shot eight men, one of whom he killed.

The Insurance muddle has been settled and the foreign companies will again commence doing business in Kentucky. This will be very acceptable news to property holders.

Adair Stephenson, a former Vice President of the United States, is slowly dying at Chicago, Ill. He served with Mr. Cleveland during the latter's first term.

Hon. A. E. Stephenson, Ex-Vice President, died in Chicago, last Saturday, at the age of seventy-eight. His political career covered many years and his record was a spotless one.

THE MAKING AND FEEDING OF SILAGE.

Silage during the last three decades has come into general use throughout the United States, especially in those regions where the dairy industry has reached its greatest development. Silage is universally recognized as a good and cheap feed for farm stock, and particularly so for cattle and sheep, are the observations made in Farmers' Bulletin 578.

Silage is the best and cheapest form in which a succulent feed can be provided for winter use, continues the bulletin.

An acre of grain can be placed in the silo at a cost not exceeding that of shocking, husking, grinding and shredding. Crops can be put in the silo during weather that can not be used in making hay or curing fodder, which is an important consideration in some localities.

A given amount of corn in the form of silage will produce more milk than the same amount when shocked and dried. There is less waste in feeding silage than in feeding fodder. Good silage properly fed is all consumed, and in addition very palatable. Like other succulent feeds it has a beneficial effect upon the digestive organs, and some stock can be kept on a given area of land when it is the basis of the ration.

On account of the smaller cost for labor, silage can be used for supplementing pastures more economically than can soiling crops, unless only a small amount of supplementary feed is required. Converting the corn crop into silage clears the land sooner than if the corn crop is shocked and husked, and because of these advantages silage, in the general opinion of dairy farmers, has increased milk production per cow and has increased the profits per acre.

During the thunder storm on the 1st, a mule belonging to Elmon Aaron was struck and killed by lightning. Mr. Aaron was standing in his door and saw the mule fall. At the same instant he started to where the mule was lying and reached the yard gate just as a second bolt of lightning struck the telephone wire which was unhooked from his house and lying across the wire front yard fence. He was knocked down by the shock and so severely shaken up that he has not fully recovered.

Vander Collins, late of this community, but now secretary and treasurer of the McAllister loose leaf school record, publishing concern, of Lawrence, Kansas, has recently presented the Sunday School at this place with the most valuable, handsome and complete set of Sudday School record books we have ever seen. Our Sunday School greatly acknowledges this splendid present and extends a hearty wish for a continuance of the excellent business career that our young neighbor and friend is making in his new western home.

Velmer Aaron, who is one of the best young men this community affords, has returned from Bowling Green where he has been attending school for several months. We understand that he will teach at McGaha, this county. That district is to be congratulated upon obtaining the services of so splendid a young man and teacher as we know Mr. Aaron to be.
